Report Record Year at Savings Bank

The Bethel Savings Bank held its annual meeting of the Board of Corporators at the Bethel Inn on Wednesday evening, May 25.

Following the election of Stephen Wight as Moderator, Edmond J. Vachon, Chairman of the Board, gave a report on the rapid growth of the bank during the past year, resulting in a record performance while many financial institutions withered in difficult times during several months of runaway inflation, high interest and severe loss of deposits. These conditions caused many banks to seek refuge in mergers with others in the area or with more distant institutions permissible under the umbrella of a holding company organization.

The year noted a marked reduction in the number of banks in the country as a result. But by far the most liberal piece of legislation in banking history, the Garn-St. Germain Depository Institutions Act became law in 1982 and revolutionized banks into a new role for the future, that of providing broader powers to include real estate, insurance, travel and brokerage services for the accommodation of customers. While the effect of the new legislation is to deregulate the banking industry, it does, at the same time give license for banks to fail as they enter more and more into competitive business.

The Trustees of the Bethel Savings Bank are committed to the continuation of operating a mutual financial institution dedicated to meet the needs of all the people in the area it serves. Its staff of dedicated and talented personnel, with the supportive action of a devoted Board of Trustees, loyal corporators, and customers with a conviction, their needs can be met at a home operation, have contributed to past successes and should be able to meet future challenges.

In the election that followed one new member was added to the Board of Corporators, John E. Grover, owner-operator of The Brass Buckle, clothing store on Main Street in Bethel. The full membership of the Board of Corporators for the ensuing year is: Avey Angvine, Ernest Angvine, Robert L. Blake, Colleen F. Boyd, Donald E. Brooks, Dana G. Brooks, Jr., Norris T. Brown, Raynor K. Brown, Frances M. Clark, Robert A. Crane, Margaret A. Davis, Richard L. Davis, William

THIS WEEK AT THE MOSES MASON HOUSE

All members and friends of the Bethel Historical Society are reminded that the monthly meeting will be held this Thursday evening (tonight) at 7:30 in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House. Featured speaker will be Paul McGuire of the Gould Academy history department who will make a presentation "The CCC and the Maine Woods." As is the case with all historical society monthly meetings, one does not have to be a member to attend. Anyone interested is cordially invited.

The Society Board of Trustees met recently and approved a new membership benefit. Any member buying merchandise totaling $10 or more in the museum store at any given time will receive a 10% discount on that purchase. The Society is one of the few organizations that has retained the same dues structure since 1971 and yet added membership benefits. This continued on Page Eight

COMMUNITY BUSINESSES DONATE GIFTS FOR PROJECT GRADUATION

The entire community is pulling together in its support of Project Graduation. Many businesses have donated gifts for the drawings that will be held throughout the evening of Friday, June 10. Many of the graduates are attending and the added incentives of door prizes seem to have caught the eye of those that are not quite sure about this first chemical free celebration.

Just a few of the many items to be given away after graduation are: T-shirts from Groan and McGurn, and the Footpath Shoe and Sports Store; Gift certificates from The Fashion Basket/Brass Buckle, Martha's, The Only Place, The Village Store, Pam's, Kelley's Auto Parts; five quarts of oil from Charlie's Chevron, and a case of soda from Brown's Cigo.

There have been donations of mugs, frisbees, and hats along with Telstar T-shirts. Every attending graduate is eligible for these gifts!

Just a reminder about the evening of the 10th. . . All parents, graduates, and friends are invited to attend the reception immediately following graduation ceremonies. Graduates and guests will then be transported to the Hillside Racquetball Club, South Paris, to spend the evening together in celebration. Any graduate or guest may leave either Hillside or the game area if picked up by a parent. Breakfast will be served at 5:00 by the American Legion, and all participants should be ready to depart on a full stomach, and an evening of fun and enjoyment.

FROM THE bethel town office

The Maine Wastewater Control Assn. has designated the week of June 6 through 10 as Clean Water Week and urges residents to visit their local wastewater treatment facility to learn more about the treatment process and to tour the plant. Bethel's Treatment Plant will be open for visitors and tours next week during regular working hours. Plant operator David Bartlett will be available to show people around and answer questions.

Selectmen Study Semi-Annual Tax Billing

On Thursday evening, May 26, Bethel Selectmen met with Buckfield Board members in the Buckfield Town Office to discuss semi-annual tax billing methods and the possibility of changing the Town's accounting year to July 1 through June 30. Buckfield is one of a number of Oxford County communities that have changed their fiscal year from the calendar year to July-June and offer semi-annual or monthly "tax club" plans to taxpayers.

Bethel's accounting year has traditionally coincided with the calendar year and in the past several years, Nov. 15 has been the deadline for payment of property taxes. As the 1982 deadline approached, several concerned citizens urged the Selectmen to see whether an alternative tax billing system could be instigated that would ease the end of the year cash flow crunch besetting most taxpayers. Many found the need to pay taxes by Nov. 15, put a damper on Christmas plans and spirits.

Late last year, at the request of the Board, the manager discussed this question with regional municipalities with semi-annual, quarterly, and "tax club" billing plans. Area towns included Rumford, Livermore Falls, Raymond, Monmouth, Harrison and Buckfield, the two latter towns having changed over to the new procedure during the past year. Like many others, Buckfield, seeking to obtain continued on Page Five

Locke Mills

— Mrs. John Mills, Corres. —

Mrs. Grace Smith is a patient at the Androscoggin Valley Hospital in Berlin, N. H., suffering from arthritis and sciatica. She is improving and hopes to be home some time this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Libby of Bangor, along with their family were week end guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Cole and family, Greenwood Center.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mills were in Berlin, N. H., Sunday afternoon when they took Mrs. Sandra Taylor, Beth, Mike and Stephanie, home, after they had spent the week end in Bethel.

Maxine Lovejoy, Vera Cross, Elsie Seames, Grace Day and Joanne Cole accompanied Charlotte Cole and attended the funeral of Marion Tibbels on May 17.

The moose seem quite plentiful around here this year. One made a call to the garden of John Mills and Edgar Dunham last week. If it came to have lunch it must have been sadly disappointed as it has been too wet to plant much.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Noyes visited her father, Lester Cole, at the Andrews nursing home and had supper with her sister, Charlotte Cole, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Smith and Naomi, Stoughton, Conn., visited Friday through Monday with his grandmother, Mrs. Lillian Lapham. Edie Smith and Marie Rodrigues, Wallingford, Conn., also came with them.

Mrs. Evelyn Johnson was a recent supper guest at the home of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Seames.

Mrs. Mildred Merrill of Bethel was a supper guest Monday of Mr. and Mrs. John Mills. In the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Mills visited the Earl Colby's and took Carl a present for his 14th birthday. Mrs. Mills also called Fryeburg during the day to wish her father, Charles Swan, a happy 78th birthday.

Mrs. Grace Day was a recent supper guest of Charlotte Cole. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Butler were also callers at the home of Charlotte Cole recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mills entertained the following guests at dinner Sunday: Bernita Dee, Lloyd Sykes and Vivian Daicy, Portland and Beatrice Eames, Fallmouth. Forester, Dustin Mills of Rumford was a week end visitor of his grandparents and a cousin, Frank Waterhouse of West Paris, brought Mrs. Mills brother, Louis Martin of Chapel Valley up for an afternoon's visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Seames returned Monday from a trip to Moosehead.

The Greenwood Fire Department Auxiliary met at the fire station Tuesday evening with ten members present. It was decided to purchase Tot Finders for the area served by the Greenwood fire department and to purchase three pitchforks for serving cold drinks. A donation was approved for the Telsar chemical-free graduation party. Plans were made to invite West Paris fire department auxiliary to supper on Tuesday, June 23.

Christine and Donny Bachelder, Didi, Doug, Adam, Andy, and Bruce Smith, Randy Wilson visited his friend, Andy Smith, Saturday. Gerry Shimamura took her mother, Thelma Merrill, to Hamstead, N. H., to visit Thelma's brother, Leland Bond, Saturday. Sunday Gerry left and on the way home stopped in Concord, N. H., to visit other relatives.

Dean, Vicki and August Murphy of Sebago spent Saturday to Monday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murphy.

Thursday, Jon and Jen Shaw, children of Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Shaw went to John Patterson's birthday party at the Park.

Friday, David and Heather Kenison were callers at the Shaws. Saturday callers at Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Shaw and children were Bob and Ginny Keniston, David, Jody, Heath, and Heather Keniston, Elsie Davis, Peter Keniston, Farmington, and fiancée, Stacy Hutchins, Portland. Sunday night for dinner the Shaws entertained Peter and Barbara Weeks and two children; Don and Dorla Fudge and two children.

God's Extras
God could have made the sun to rise
Without such splendor in the skies
He could have made the sun to set
Without a greater glory yet
Without the sunny golden glow;
The fruit without those colors bright
So pleasant to the taste and sight
He could have made the ocean roll
Without such music for the soul
The mighty anthem loud and strong,
And birds without their clear, sweet song.
The God who fashioned flowers and trees
Delights to give us things that please.
And all His handiwork so fair
His glory and His love declare.
Yes, He who made the earth and skies
Gave "extras" for our ears and eyes,
And while my heart with rapture sings
I thank Him for the "extra things."

Northwest Bethel

— Clarice Gibson, Corres. —

Not one of the best Memorial week ends but from the news understand that the turnpike was getting heavy traffic. Actually Saturday and Sunday were not bad if one wanted to work; but if one wanted a sun tan and a friend that it was not very sunny. The apple trees are now in bloom as well as the flowering crabs. The tree at Homer Smith's is just a huge bouquet of blossoms. The lilacs are not in full bloom this year for Memorial. Saturday, the folks, Mr. and Mrs. George Allen, came and we had our first outdoor picnic of this year. After George went down to Portland to help his brother, Jim, and Sue move into their new apartment.

Mike Davis called to see if Jim was up for the week end and said his sister Betsy and husband, Mark Retallack, were the proud parents of a 10 lb. 2 oz. boy, born Friday. The parents live in Salem, Mass., but the baby's grandmother, Amy Davis, and great-grandmother, Elsie Davis, both live in Bethel.

May 23, Evelyn stopped in to see Kay McAllister, Bryant Pond. Tuesday, Evelyn took a ride through Andover, South Arm, to Silver Lake, and shopped in Rumford. Wednesday, Evelyn and Bertha Flanders went to Oxford. They stopped at Stephens Memorial Hospital to see a relative of Bertha's and had dinner in South Paris. Thursday, Kay McAllister, Frances Farnum, Bryant Pond; Bernita Flanders, Locke Mills and Louie Coffin, West Paris, came for lunch and visit. Saturday, Evelyn went shopping and called on Frances Farnum and relatives, Bryant Pond.

Wednesday, Sylvia Benson went to Hebron to see her mother, Alice Foss. Callers during the week were Sue and Dick Angevine and Frank Chapman.

At the Homer Smith house Monday were Terry, DiAnn and Danny Smith, Newburyport, Mass.;

Safety Tip of the Week — Safety For Little Tots—Safety All Around the House: Crouch down to get a child's eye view of objects that would endanger a tiny tot.

Then: Keep electric cords behind furniture when possible; never leave them dangling. Move furniture in front of outlets and use plastic guards on any left exposed. Then remove glass table tops, store them away. Put padded corners on tops of heavy glass, stone or marble. Quills and movers' pads are great and colorful. It protects the toddler who falls against the table and prevents scratches.

Store away sewing and hobby supplies—pick up dropped pins and needles.

REMARKS OF LT. COL. KNIGHT

Remarks of Lt. Colonel Robert C. Knight, Commander, U. S. Army District Recruiting Command, Concord, N. H., on Memorial Day, May 30, at the Mundy-Allen Post #81, American Legion Hall.

"I am honored to be here today and to participate with you in the remembrance of our fallen comrades. We are able to gather here today because we are a free nation and because of those who fought and died to preserve our freedom and our way of life.

"The price of freedom has not been cheap. The blood of our nation's men and women who have served their country stains the beaches of Normandy, the scorching sands of Africa, the snowy mountain of Korea, and the jungles of Vietnam. Their bodies lie buried on foreign soil where they gave their lives that we might be free.

"For them, the pain and fear of death are over. For the mothers, fathers, sisters, brothers and loved ones of those who fought and died, the pain lingers, and the fear of war is no less a reality. In that regard, we are here today to honor the living and to reaffirm our commitment to them that their loved ones did not die in vain.

"For many of us, it is easy to forget that during World War I, over 116,000 American servicemen gave their lives for their country. During World War II, another 405,000 gave their all on foreign soil to bring Hitler's war machine to its knees before enemy troops could invade American soil. In Korea, 54,000 soldiers, sailors, Marines, and airmen fought and died to preserve freedom in that country. During the Vietnam conflict, another 57,000 died in the name of freedom, and for many years we could not truly understand why we were being asked to fight—and to die.

"Unless we lost a loved one, it is easy to forget that the freedom we enjoy did not just happen. It came because of patriotic and dedicated Americans who answered their nation's call to arms. We have freedom because of those who paid the price to maintain a free nation.

"Today we live in a time where

MEMORIAL DAY SPEAKERS—Memorial Day exercises were held in the Mundy-Allen Post, American Legion, Hall on Vernon Street, Bethel, on Monday, May 30, because of the rain. Lt. Col. Robert Knight, left, commander, U. S. Army District Recruiting Command, was the principal speaker. Sean Kersey, right, gave Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

It is easy to forget that our freedom is still being threatened. We have other more immediate concerns—like unemployment, inflation, and even the weather. Our borders are not being threatened. What is happening in the world today, all around us, doesn't touch our shores. In 1940, when Germany invaded Romania, it didn't touch our shores either. On 7 December 1941, when Pearl Harbor was attacked, we realized that what was happening in other distant countries really did pose a threat to our nation's way of life. Those we honor here today know too well how real that threat was. They gave their all so that we may still be free.

"It may be easy for us to forget, but for those who live in Germany, a country divided, families divided, neighbors divided, and Soviet divisions on their soil, the price of freedom is always in mind. In Afghanistan, Poland, Cambodia, and close to our own shores, Honduras and El Salvador, the price of freedom is not being forgotten. We think of those countries' price of freedom in defense dollars and foreign aid, not in lives of American soldiers. Yet if we waver in our determination to pay dollars, not lives, for the cost of freedom—the price could be higher.

"We do not train a strong military to conduct war, but maintain peace. It is the soldier who must suffer and bear the deepest wounds of war. Our goal is to insure the enemy dies for his country, not we for ours.

"Peace has been the goal of all our Presidents. In his inaugural address, President Reagan warned the enemies of freedom by stating: 'As to the enemies of freedom, to those who are potential adversaries, they will be reminded that peace is the highest aspiration of the American people. We will negotiate for it, sacrifice for it; we will not surrender for it—now or ever.'

"Former President John F. Kennedy said, 'The primary purpose of our arms is peace, not war—to make certain that they will never have to be used.'

"Franklin D. Roosevelt also talked of peace when he stated, 'Peace, like war, can succeed only where there is a will to enforce it.' 'Our first President, George Washington, laid the foundation for freedom when he made the following statement: 'There is nothing so likely to produce peace as to be well prepared to meet an enemy.'

"Since our birth as a nation, we have sought peace and the preservation of freedom. Many of us here today can recall that when we were children, we started each school day with the Pledge of Allegiance to our Great Flag and prayed for peace.

"Today, 133 military cemeteries overseas, 106 National Cemeteries in the United States, and hundreds of civilian cemeteries across our nation are the final resting places for over one million members of the armed forces who have given their lives so that this nation can remain free.

"Freedom is the heritage which we leave our children. When you see a child, it should serve to re-

"When you see a tiny child taking his or her first step . . . remember the dead soldier . . . for he cannot see.

"When you take a child to a parade and listen to the band as it marches by . . . remember the soldier . . . for he cannot hear.

"When you are awakened some quiet Sunday morning by the children . . . remember the soldier . . . for he can no longer be awakened.

But the soldier's heart
The soldier's spirit
The soldier's soul
Are with us . . .

"They linger to sustain us, just as they sustained him in life. The soldier's heart, spirit and soul cannot be destroyed. They are a part of our heritage. These dead will never be forgotten. Their memories will continue to live and add strength to our lives—not only on Memorial Day, but each time we see a child, and all the other days of our lives."

Walking With Jesus Christ

A discussion on prayer could lead us into many directions—even as we think of the logger in way of a falling point of a pine—no time to get on your knees—it's a shout—"Jesus!" and get up and go.

Prayer in any posture—even as Christ-followed by some disciples—hanging on a cross. Posture, time and place is not always important—tho, as lives precious blood is necessary for the believer—so is a quiet time with the Lord.

Prayer can come spontaneously—almost automatically—in the case of the logger—in any situation. Blessings received will hopefully result in sincere thanksgiving—even in the case of no apparent help—there's thanksgiving—"not my will, but thine be done."

Prayer is a dialogue between two persons who love each other—you and God. Prayer must be more than words—"off the top of our heads"—it should be that fervent prayer—God expects it that way—remember God loves you and expects understanding with faith as a standard ingredient. Prayer is not a ritual of reciting, as a photograph—with no feeling—an absence of expectations. This is not the—"faith as the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." Heb. II, 1. Jesus said—Matt. 6:7—use not vain repetitions as the pagans do; for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking. Be not ye, therefore, like unto them; for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him.

We should desire that our prayer time be in real communion with our heavenly Father, through Jesus Christ; full of love and praise—with a deep sense of faith by which results are determined.

Faith—beliefs is access in Jesus Christ—our advocate—the Holy Spirit—to infinite intelligence and unlimited power.

May our dialogue, with God be as of people in love with him—in full dependence upon him—who first loved us.

Likewise the Holy Spirit also helpeth our infirmities—"he joins us in prayer—"For we know not what we should pray for as we ought—but he who searcheth the heart knoweth—making intercession for the saints according to the will of God." Romans 8:26-27. Fred Werner

Letters to the Editor

May 31, 1983

To the Editor and M.S.A.D. #44 Voters:
Woodstock Elementary School has served the community and M.S.A.D. #44, and served us well. However, even the State of Maine feels that it now needs to be replaced. It is an unsafe building and an economic burden on the district.

There are many unsafe features at the school. In years past the top floor was meant to house high school students. At the present the top floor is occupied by the third and fourth grades, the library, Title I, and resource room. This building is tinder dry and gets more so with each passing year. For many years the floors were covered; these same floors are now oiled with carpenter, which does not make for an ideal situation. I was at the school recently and decided to look down (straight down) from the top floor. Believe me, it is a long way! I hope that I never have to use that outside fire escape, and I worry about the students using it, especially in a panic situation.

Maintaining this school is very costly due to its age and the fuel which is wasted daily. The rooms are never the same temperature. The furnace has to be turned way up in order to heat some rooms, while others are too warm. The wind either comes in through the windows, or heat is lost out through them. Meanwhile, oil is pouring through the furnace while trying to maintain a healthy medium.

The fact that the building has three stories also creates inconveniences. There are two classrooms, the kitchen area, and bath rooms on the ground floor. Therefore all students except kindergarten and grade one must go to the ground floor to get their hot lunches and then carry them back up two or three flights, depending on which floor their classroom is on. (Needless to say food is wasted as spills occur.) In order to use the bathrooms, the same flight of stairs must be used. This is es-

To the Editor:

This is in reply to letters of criticism RE: The Bethel Area Health Center which have appeared in the Bethel Citizen, one last week, and one several weeks ago. I do not know the circumstances in these cases, but I feel sure that if the Health Center denied them their services, there must have been a very good reason.

I have been a patient at the Health Center for some time, and I have always found the staff very helpful and have received excellent care there. I feel that Dr. Williams and the staff at the Center are very well qualified and that they are providing a great service for the Area.

Sincerely,
Roger E. Hanscom

pecially difficult for children who use crutches.

I believe that a new school is the best possible solution to our problems. State money is available to help us with the construction. A new building will be less costly to heat and will certainly create a safer place for our children to receive their education. If we try to bandage the present building up to standing it will be a very expensive project, and will have to be done largely with district funds. It will also continue to be a drain on us year after year.

I worry about my children each day they go to school, and I hope and pray that there is never a real need to get better cash flow, started by examining semi-annual tax billing only to find that moving to a July-June fiscal year that shifted the annual town meeting to June, gained even greater efficiency (i. e. reduced costs of operating the Town government).

Preliminary results, supported by Maine Municipal Association data, showed overwhelmingly that a new fiscal year with periodic tax billing had a great many more advantages than disadvantages. In December, the Selectmen included Article 26 in the March Town Meeting Warrant authorizing the Board "to investigate an accounting change from the calendar year (Jan-Dec) period to a fiscal (July-June) period beginning July 1, 1984, and provide for a six month transition year from Jan. 1 to June 30, 1984, and have the Selectmen make a recommendation at a fall 1983 Town Meeting." The article was approved by a majority of the March Town Meeting voters.

During the meeting last Thursday, Buckfield Selectmen pointed out that advantages included better cash flow, better information for decision making at Town Meeting (e. g. assessed valuation and school budget requirements would be available to predict the tax rate before Town Meeting rather than after it) and greater efficiency. For example, both Buckfield and Harrison reduced by 75% their need to borrow money in anticipation of taxes. In January, the Bethel Selectmen voted to borrow $300,000 in Tax Anticipation Notes and repay $28,000 in interest by Dec. 31.

Next Selectmen's Meeting.

The Board of Selectmen will meet next Monday evening, June 6, at 7 o'clock in the Town Office Meeting Room. Notes taken at the Buckfield meeting will be reviewed and future articles in the column will carry discussions of the advantages and disadvantages of changing to a new fiscal year. Other agenda items will include review of ambulance abatements, discussion of the location of the Bethel/Woodstock Town Line (Woodstock Selectmen tentatively scheduled to attend) and initial steps in nominating an Airport Development Committee. Interested citizens are invited to attend.

Tibbets, John W. Trinward, Stephen W. Wight, Dennis Wilson, William F. Winslow.

Elected members of the Board of Trustees for the ensuing year are: Norris T. Brown, Gordon M. Gillies, Philip C. Jackson, Ronald C. Kendall, E. Louise Lincoln, John W. Trinward, Edmond J. Vachon and Stephen W. Wight.

Following adjournment of the business meeting, a very delicious, complete dinner was served to corporators, trustees, employees, guests and spouses. This social gathering, hosted by the Bethel Inn staff, was much enjoyed.

John W. Trinward, Vice Chairman of the Board of Trustees, presided at the meeting that followed the dinner. He introduced James D. Delamater, President of the Bethel Savings Bank, who gave an in-depth explanation of how the record performance for the year just closed was accomplished. The bank reported net earnings of $250,000 versus last year's $140,000. He also noted that operating earnings were $443,000, but were adjusted downward by the sale of some long term mortgages which were paying lower rates; this move should help in the words of Jim "to lay a solid foundation for the future of Bethel Savings Bank". The bank increased loans by five million dollars including a substantial number of commercial loans. The bank's net return on assets was highest amongst all state chartered mutual savings banks on a calendar year basis. Particular thanks were given to the employees of the bank for their dedicated effort.

Gilead

— Louise Loring, Corres. —

His medals were proudly shown one winter's day, as somebody had made the comment, that they had never seen a Purple Heart before. Excusing himself for a second he was gone for moment, and came back with a whole battery of medals, carefully tucked inside a black velvet case. (Just for the purpose of inspection.) For when I asked him this week, to interview him for this column, he politely refused, and wishes to remain anonymous. However, it is my intention not to let this man go unnoticed, and my purpose is to remind all of us that were it not for this man, and millions like him, we would not be enjoying the freedom in this country that we are today. Too often we take this great gift for granted. This man does not want to be a "hero," or talk about those terrible days of World War II, when France was invaded by the Allies on June 6, 1944. He was, he said, "in the first wave and that's all you're going to hear." The "first wave" according to my reference books, took place at 6:30 a. m. (London time) on beaches along the line of Carenton-Bayeux and Caen, with the U. S. forces on the West and the British-Canadians on the East. The total Allied strength available were 2,876,439 men, including 17 British Divisions, of which three were Canadian, 20 U. S. Divisions, one French and one Polish. There were 5,049 fighter planes, 3,467 heavy bombers, 1,645 medium bombers, 1,645 light and medium bombers, 2,316 transport aircraft, 2,591 gliders and others, 835 L.C.T. and 233 L.S.T.'s. The Beach Head was 60 miles long and ten miles deep. This man covers the scars on his arm and chest, (they are there still) but he cannot hide his avid patriotism, and his interest in the governmental policies of our national, state and local affairs. He is an independent man, asks nothing of no-one, and although he has reached the age of retirement, and could be taking life easy, it is his choice to keep busy. He runs his own business, with the aid and help of his hard working wife, of whom he is also very, very proud. His only wish is that we not take for granted what a privilege it still is to live as we do today, in this great nation of ours, and respect and revere the flag, enough to give our lives for it, as he himself, jeopardized his own, very willingly. He knows how precious freedom is, he has "paid his price" for all of us. Many times when people are whining, or are very discontent, I have heard him angrily admonish them, pointing out how lucky they are just to be alive, and asking, "you don't see enemy tanks in our streets, do you?" He has seen the oppressed and witnessed first hand their joy at being liberated. He has risked his life for days and weeks on end, while hiding behind hedgerows in the Black Forest, and eaten soup made from coffee grounds and K rations, served up in a helmet. Two months before the closing of World War II, he was wounded, and today, he and others like him are content to go on living.

In closing, Hats Off to You—but "Unsung Hero." "The Forgotten Man"—you are, an inspiration to all of us.

"Thank you—for giving us our freedom." And, as a token of our thankfulness, let us show our gratefulness, by truly displaying an avid interest in what goes on about us, and appreciating the Four Freedoms that F.D.R. termed essential in his speech to Congress on Jan. 6, 1941, which are—Freedom of speech and expression—Freedom of worship—Freedom from want and Freedom from fear. Let us strive to protect them all, willingly and graciously. So be it!

N. Y. Bank Robbers Arrive in Gilead

More than likely no reminiscing session of yesteryear in Gilead would be complete without recalling, in the early twenties, of "The Arrival of the N. Y. Bank Robbers."

Now this little yarn, reminiscent of the days in the Old Wild West, happened right here on the Main Road—(then a dirt highway), running east and west through this village.

Yours truly, and most everyone else, witnessed the first "live" show, with all the suspense drama, and shooting, as was so well depicted in those wonderful Zane Grey Tales of the Old West, and the admission was free! Now, along with the rest of the story—

On this day, the agent at the Grand Trunk R. R. Station, I believe it was Mr. Verville of Bethel, received a telegraph message (at that time there was only one telephone in Gilead), so it was not uncommon for our people to send and receive messages in this manner. This telegram was short and to the point.

It read:—"Robbers of Southern Maine Bank traveling west in large out of state auto, headed toward Gilead, please apprehend."

So the alarm in this quiet little village was sounded, as it always was, in case of emergency—the handle on the steam mill whistle was pulled down and tied there, and all the mill workers, led by Sheriff Mr. Wesley Wilson, plus two of the best gun handlers in town, Roscoe Swan and son, were hastily appointed deputies (on the run), all arriving at the area near the then newly constructed Leighton Tea Room and Socony Gas Station.

At this point, things were looking up, as right there were two large new empty 1,000 gal. storage tanks, waiting for later installation. So the quick decision was made to roll these east to a point on the highway opposite the R. R. freight shed and the J. W. Bennett barn. This move made a fine blockade and also provided protective cover for the officers, in what could be quite a "shooting spree!"

Well to try and shorten this tale, it was not long before the action started—the bandits' car was seen coming at very high speed in a cloud of dust, from the east—a large Packard touring car with four tough characters aboard.

Now things really began to move, and action started. Our officer gunmen got ready, and at this point the bandits spotted the blocked highway, and immediately reversed direction, turning at the R. R. station and headed back east—a lot of gunfire was exchanged by

TOWN TEAM TENNIS CLINIC HELD AT GREENWOOD MAY 24

The Town Team Tennis clinic on Doubles Strategy was held on Tuesday, May 24, at the Greenwood Courts, instructed by Steve and Lynda Chandler. Areas covered were general rules of doubles play, including positions on court, types of shots and situations to avoid. Those attending were able to play putting the instruction into practice. A second clinic will be scheduled in early June sponsored by the S.A.D. 44 Adult and Community Education program.

Following the clinic a brief co-ordinators meeting was held with coordinators Liddell Thompson, Gary Fuller and Denise Brown attending. Recruitment of players is underway with two teams being formed in Greenwood, three in Bethel, the possibility of a combination Newry-Hanover team and one from Bryant Pond. Anyone who wishes to join the league should contact any of the above mentioned coordinators or the Adult and Community Education office, 824-2136. Woodstock players should contact Wick Johnson.

Matches will be scheduled on week ends throughout the summer but it is not necessary to attend all matches to participate. Players of all abilities are involved, and order of play at matches will take ability into account.

both parties—but no person was wounded and no tires on the bandits' car were hit.

Someone asked "Crack Shot Barney" if he truly was shooting at the outlaws. He replied:—"Well, no, man, if I had been, I would have hit them!"

So to bring this Gilead episode to a close—the bandits abandoned their car one mile east of town on P. Bennett hill, took to the woods, and that night under cover of darkness, hopped aboard a slow moving west bound freight train, just leaving on the passing track, and were Montreal bound. Thus, so ended the saga of the arrival and escape of the N. Y. Bank Robbers.

No wounded, no bloodshed, no arrests—another interesting and exciting day for the young and the old, some sixty years ago. etc

Safety Tip of the Week: When gardening, be cautious when applying pesticides. Also after applying dressing to the garden for fertilizer, be especially careful to wash your hands after handling either. Seeds suitable for planting are not suitable for eating. Many have been soaked in chemicals to kill pests. Keep seeds to be planted out of the reach of small children. Hopefully the weather will dry out some so we can get those gardens in.

Greenwood City

— Mrs. Collette Morgan, Corres. —

June again with its fresh, lush green all over the valley. Vines and creeping tendrils are displayed along the walls, while beneath, looking up is the green, green grass. The rains have helped those things but wouldn't it be nice now if for a while we could forget the rain and see the sun rise and set on the horizon? How nice also to see the shadows crawl the mountains!

June, the month of many things; graduations, with a new start in life for many, weddings with beautiful brides, roses, and many flowers.

"Thickly grow the tangled flowers along the river's edge, Sweetly twine the roses through the lattice of the ledge."
—Patience Strong

June, a time for wild strawberries.

June, with the haying season about to begin; a time of growth, the beginning of summer.

The lily-of-the-valley is as sweet as the lilacs on the hill. I notice it as I move about my yard.

It has been too wet for hiking but I have found time between showers to plant my flower seeds and my seedlings.

Right now the apple trees are in bloom and the bees busy.

My diary informs me that in 1973 the weather conditions were much the same at this time.

My oracles have visited daily since their return and eaten the oranges which I have put out for them. How beautiful they are and when a male rose-breasted grosbeak sits beside it the beauty doubles. I always find something interesting in the out of doors. Nathaniel Hawthorne said, "Happiness is a butterfly, which, when pursued, is always just beyond your grasp but which, if you will sit down quietly, may light upon you."

In a short time I hope for sunshine and a hike to the woods.

"The woodlands filled with beauty at this summer time of year. Its glory is around us. Making God seem very near. The voices of His creatures Sound like music in the air. And this sun in all her brilliance Shines on blossoms everywhere. From the crimson of the wild rose."

That holds its head up high, To the tiny violet trembling As a soft breeze whispers by, The earth spreads forth her glory.

For all mankind to see. A living majestic portrait, Of peace and tranquility."

—Shirley Salley

MOSES MASON HOUSE

has been made possible by continuous efforts to increase the number of members and by the voluntary action of many Society members of increasing their dues participation in the contributing, patron and life categories.

One hundred years ago the Oxford Democrat for May 29, 1883 reported on the annual meeting of the Bethel Library Association. Officers and trustees elected were Mrs. D. S. Hastings, President; Mrs. J. B. Chapman, Vice President; Miss M. Frye, Secretary; Mrs. W. O. Straw, Treasurer; Trustees, Dr. N. T. True, Dr. B. F. Tuell, A. E. Henrick, Miss M. G. Chapman, Miss Cora Burnham. There were 93 members since the organization was established in 1879 and 516 volumes in the collection.

It was reported that the Hanoverian Family made an appearance at Pattee's Hall on Spring Street. The entertainment consisted of Helicon Band, Cornet Band, Slide Trombone Quartette, Bell Ringing, Infant Quartette, Infant Drum Corps; The German Songsters; Duets, Quartettes and full chorus.

One week later (the issue for June 5, 1883) the correspondent reported "that Memorial Day was observed generally in the town by speaking and singing at the Cemetery. In the evening, a crowded house listened to an interesting address by Hon. Enoch Foster."

The column concluded with the following item. "Abiel Chandler Jr., one of our most prompt and enterprising correspondents, has rented his farm for three years, and moved into the village where he will devote his time to the sale of agricultural implements. He has also purchased 17 acres of land situated between Broad and Chapman Streets, where he will build a residence this summer. Next summer he intends to erect several finely finished cottages to let to city people through the summer season; families to live in the cottages and take their meals at the hotels. Mr. Chandler is writing a history of the Fourth Maine Battery in the battle of Cedar Mountain, August 9, 1862."

Locke Mills Union Church is hosting a community "Parsonage Pot Luck Supper" on June 1, at 6 p. m. The supper will aid the official kick-off of a fund drive to finance the first fund drive for the 100-year-old Sunday Church.
